Mount Family

By Pam Mount

ary and J are the luckiest parents and grandparents! When we bought our farm, Terhune Orchards, (95 acres) in 1975, we had no idea what it would take to build a successful farm. We had been out of the country for 5 years as Peace Corps Volunteers in Satatal Island and one year traveling around the world on our way home!

Trying to “adjust” to living in the suburbs, having our first child, Reuwai, was challenging. The “adventure” of farming was just what we had been looking for — not realizing no one had bought farmland to farm in Mercer County for the past 20 years — purchasing to build houses and shopping centers on farm fields — but with our Peace Corps experience and all of the support from the local community willing to give this young family a try, it has worked out. As our family grew, Tannwen was born in 1976 and Mark joined us in 1978. Our farm grew we as were able to buy 28 acres on Van Kirk road in 1980 and another 65 acres on Van Kirk road in 2004.

Both Reuwai and Tannwen followed their father to Princeton University learning how to take risks and explore the world. Both married wonderful young men they had gone to school with at Lawrenceville prep school. Tannwen lived in California until returning to the farm in 2003, bringing with her the idea to start a vineyard and winery. When she was 10 she started a birthday party business — a very successful first effort. Back on the farm she uses her people skills to organize not only birthday parties and education programs but all events, in our winery and tasting room. Reuwai and her husband, Mike, lived at Lawrenceville school 2000-2018. In 2016, Reuwai came back to the farm full time. She is mastering the growing/tractor driving/planting and harvesting, challenges of our farm business. Now both families live on the farm with their children. Reuwai and Mike’s children are: Maya (age 15), Teo (12), and Sasha (12). Tannwen and Jim’s children are: Becket (11), Hadley and Clayton (4) They are all the apples of their grandparents’ eyes! Our son, Mark, has been serving in the Army for 10 years. He and his family — his wife Vicky, their daughter Madison (9) and son Wyatt (5) are now stationed at Fort Benning in Georgia and all are doing well! School recesses early and they have been off school for a month already! Mark and Vicky are planning their future when Mark retires from the Army.
Just Peachy Festival

August 3 & 4, 10 – 5 p.m.

Summer at Terhune Orchards means peaches. Golden, fuzzy, juicy, amazing peaches! Enjoy the summer bounty with our harvest festival as we celebrate “everything peachy” on August 4 & 5.

The weekend will be filled with plenty of activities for kids, including a ride through the orchards on our tractor-drawn wagons, pony rides, games and barnyard fun. Live country music will have the whole family dancing along every day from 12-4 p.m.

“Eyes of the Wild” will present their traveling zoo program on both days at 12pm and 1:30pm. This educational program with live animals will mesmerize toddlers through grown-ups.

Pam’s Farm Fresh Food Tent will offer other tasty summer fare such as barbecued chicken, hot dogs, homemade gazpacho, salads, and our famous apple cider donuts. Cool off in the Ice Cream Social Tent with one of our refreshing frozen peach slushies and a selection of locally made ice creams.

Read & Pick Programs at Terhune Orchards Engage Children all Summer

Our unique Read and Pick educational programs are perfect for children from preschool to 8 years. Children love learning about where their food comes from. Our farm educators gather the little ones about fruits, vegetables, pollinators or farming equipment. Afterwards the children go out into the orchards and children’s garden for hands-on activities inspired by the book of the day. They may pick the fruit or vegetables they just learned about, take a tractor ride or have a craft activity.

From Apples to Zucchini: Terhune Orchards Grows Over 40 kinds of Fruits and vegetables

In the Garden State, our fantastic climate allows us to grow an abundance of fruits and vegetables. On our 200-acre family farm we grow over 45 different crops including over two dozen varieties of tomatoes and peaches, thirty varieties of apples, a dozen peppers and potatoes and all of your favorite summer vegetables. We carefully select varieties that provide the best quality and flavor. Terhune Orchards has been recognized for using sustainable farming practices. The majority of our vegetables are certified organic.

Each month of summer brings new crops. In June we start harvesting lots of leafy greens, radishes, early broccoli, summer squash, beans and herbs. During July we start bringing in our sweet corn, tomatoes, cucumbers, peppers and potatoes. Watermelons and cantaloupes are a welcome treat in August when eggplants also arrive. Throughout the summer season we also harvest carrots, cabbage, cauliflower and beets. Our website has a handy crop chart to let you know what we’re growing each month. terhuneorchards.com/our-crops/

Tomatoes are one of our favorite summer crops. Gary has tried growing hundreds of varieties of tomatoes over the years. We’ve dubbed his top tomato “Gary’s Favorite.” This one is really great for slicing and sandwiches. We also have over 15 varieties of heirloom tomatoes growing this season. Remember tomatoes are best stored at room temperature on the counter instead of the fridge.

A wide variety of melons are always piled high in the bins just outside the store. We have samples out to help you decide which you’d like to buy. We have melons big enough for a party and smaller varieties. The Yellow Doll watermelon holds a surprise inside with sweet, yellow flesh. Fragrant cantaloupes with rich orange flesh and honeydew melons with light green interiors are always crowd pleasers. Sugar Cube, a small cantaloupe, is the perfect size for one sitting and super sweet.

Peaches, nectarines, cherries, blueberries, blackberries, apples and grapes are all fruit crops that are available at different times during the season. The farm store is always fully stocked with produce that was just picked at the peak of readiness.
Oh Deer – My Combat with Nature

By Gary Mount

I have been farming about 45 years. My most serious challenge in farming has been the wild animals that eat what I grow. Birds, raccoons, ground hogs, mice, and voles. But, the most serious opponents are deer.

I grew up on an apple farm in Princeton. If deer were sighted in the orchard, it was an event that my father would tell our family about after dinner. Deer eat the apples, as well as the leaves during the season. They rub the bark from the trunks with their horns in the fall and eat the fruit buds in the winter. (Can you imagine how many apple fruit buds it takes to fill the stomach of a hungry deer?)

Deer were not that big of a problem for my father. There just were not that many deer. These days the deer population in NJ is tremendous. Deer damage makes it almost impossible to farm successfully, especially for fruit and vegetable growers.

...like me. The deer love to eat every crop that I grow!

I started my combat with repellents. I sprayed the trees with the repellents and the deer ate less, but the rain would wash off the repellent and it was dinner time again. I used human hair in mesh bags (men’s hair only; women’s hair is washed before cutting.) And blood meal in small cloth bags. I bought so many 2 x 3-inch bags from Flemington Bag and Burlap Company that many deer.

...they are no longer my partners. I just now consider them as my worst enemy.

Fencing followed. I tried a fence around each small tree but when planting 500-1000 trees per acre, that was ridiculous. I also noticed that when the small trees got bigger, the deer would stand on their hind legs and jump. Apples 10-12 feet off the ground were still getting eaten.

...and jump. Apples 10-12 feet off the ground were still getting bigger, the deer would stand on their hind legs and jump. Apples 10-12 feet off the ground were still getting eaten. And jump. ...and jump. Apples 10-12 feet off the ground were still getting bigger, the deer would stand on their hind legs and jump. Apples 10-12 feet off the ground were still getting eaten.

Back to fencing, I next tried electric fencing around the farms. About 4-5 feet high, 4-5 electrified wires. Similar to what livestock producers use for their pastures. I put the fence around the orchards. The deer lost their fear of the fence. They learned to jump straight through the fence without being shocked, so long as their feet did not touch the ground. They learned to crawl under the fence without touching. Electric fencing kept some deer out. But, as one of my employees said, I still had my partners out in the field every night.

I have finally come to constructing barrier type, woven wire fences around the farm. My wife, Pam, calls it the “penitentiary” look. It’s a big cost to fence in 4 farms with a total of almost 200 acres. We have had to learn the best way to build the fence. No gaps more than 6 inches at the bottom, use high tensile wire that will sping back up when a fallen tree is removed. Always keep the gate closed at night.

Right now, the deer are no longer my partners. I have found I can cut back my plantings of a particular vegetable crop and still have enough, even when I plant only 50% of what I planted for the “partnership.”

Things are good as far the deer go, but I have to remain combat ready.

Peach Season

J ust inside the door of the farm store, a poster lists all 28 peach varieties we grow at Terhune Orchards. Neatly drawn columns list the peaches by name and the date their harvest started for the permit to shoot the deer? That has not worked for me or anywhere in the state. I work 7 days a week all day. I am just unable to sit out in orchards in the evening and early morning to shoot deer. Also, my farmer friends who have tried shooting, report they can not shoot enough. Hunters, during the regular hunting season in NJ, shoot about 40,000 deer a year. Deer-car collisions kill 50,000 more. That accounts for about 100,000 deer a year, but still the herds grow. NJ Farm Bureau is currently sponsoring a project to count deer herds using infrared photography from drones. The first results are in — some areas such as Warren County show 300-400 deer per square mile (Nothing like data!). Biologists feel the optimal number is around 15 deer per square mile.
